Affiliate Benefits

Information

LMFI affiliates gain exclusive access to up-to-date environmental, regulatory and industry information related to marine fuels, that is imperative for timely and industry-leading decision-making. Regular digital updates ensure all affiliates receive pertinent information related to the sector.

Advocacy

LMFI work with affiliate businesses, governments and regulatory bodies to advocate for LNG as a marine fuel, ensuring stable and environmentally sustainable growth for the maritime sector.

Networking

Uniquely positioned as the only NGO in the Southern Hemisphere servicing the needs of the marine fuels industry, LMFI offers its affiliates unparalleled networking opportunities with highly respected and credible industry fellows; these networks provide invaluable opportunities for information exchange and industry insight.

Expertise

LMFI advisors are marine, LNG and regulatory experts uniquely positioned to provide support and consultation on the maritime industry and its engagement with the LNG fuel sector.

Access

LMFI's comprehensive network of affiliates brings together key Government agencies, state and industry regulators, and businesses throughout Australasia. We work closely with our counterparts in the Northern Hemisphere to ensure that LMFI is a part of the global dialogue for LNG as a marine fuel.

Engagement

Affiliate companies and individuals are invited to participate in technical forums, working groups, and discussion panels that will guide the future of the marine fuels sector in the Southern Hemisphere.

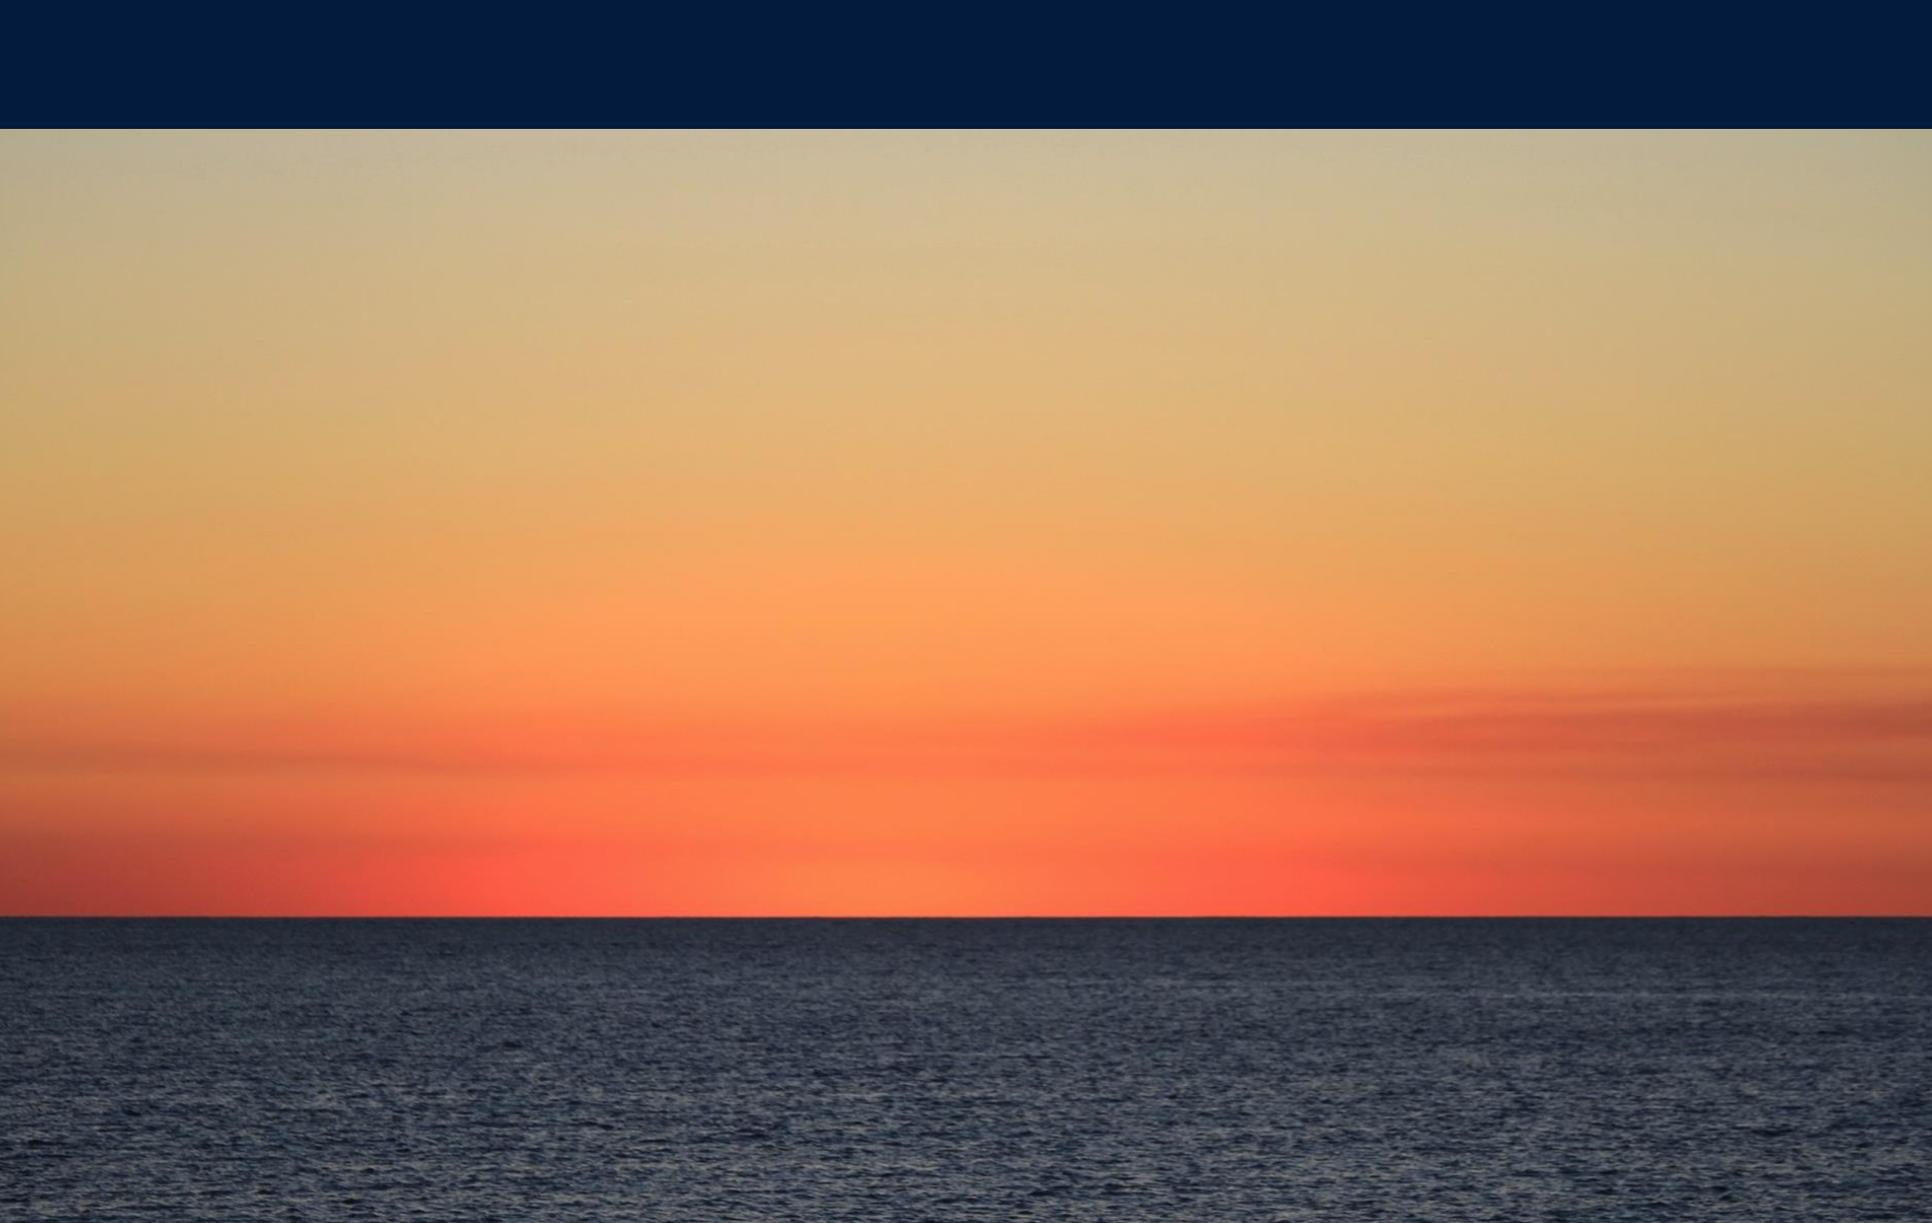

Leadership

Affiliates have the opportunity to propose studies, projects, conferences, and panels that drive research and industry action in support of the marine fuels sector, benefitting both their businesses and operations and the maritime and LNG sectors at large.

Impact

LMFI affiliation is a mark of distinction for your organisation, underpinning your commitment to a better future for the maritime industry and the environment. Your membership affiliation with LMFI will help guide a long-term vision for the future of the maritime industry and gas as a marine fuel.
